Soledad-Seaside Project Formed

La Diveda De Soledad (A Sharing of the Solitude) is a new project being formed between the city of Seaside and Soledad prison. A recent letter submitted to the Seaside City Council said the project was needed because:

"The Soledad Correctional Training Facility and Seaside share a mutual need to create, reflect, and project a better public image.

The letter, was directed to the council by Maurice McQuinn, president of La Diveda De Soledad (LDDS) and also stated that concepts must be explored and developed fully which take into consideration the fact, cities and institutions, like people can reflect only that which they are.

And the letter continued saying that the mutual interest Seaside and Soledad have are people.

Some former residents of Seaside now incarcerated at Soledad will return to the city to live upon their release from prison, and they will have a need to maintain contact with an interest in the communities from where they came.

There are also many Seaside residents who work at the Soledad Training Facility that are involved with the custody, treatment and training of the resident inmate population. In fact, one late Seaside resident was killed in the line of duty at Soledad, and he was interred in the Mission Memorial Cemetery in Seaside.

The objective of (LDDS) is to provide a public relations scheme to develop, promote and, accomplish Human Relations Projects among the citizens of Seaside, along with the staff and inmates at Soledad.

On December 16, 1971, a resolution was passed and adopted saying the city of Seaside hereby endorses the sharing of solitude with men and women who live and work in our correctional institutions with all eyes including councilmen Barton, Ross, Cota, Olea and Mayor Louis N. Haddad.

A resolution from (LDDS) said:

Whereas we recognize that compassion is not only an individual virtue but, also a community virtue; and Whereas we recognize that communities must build on a foundation of understanding and love; and whereas we recognize that the image a city projects is a reflection of the ideals, the aspirations, the deeds and, the misdeeds of its citizens; and whereas we recognize that times and circumstances occur which dictate the incarceration of our citizens; and whereas we recognize that these citizens are human beings and; if we aspire to practice the tenets upon which this republic was founded, it is our sacred duty to keep faith with those who are incarcerated.

A checking account was opened at the Seaside Branch Bank of America, said McQuinn, and others now on the project include Mrs. Nancy McClintock, a member of the Seaside Human Relations Commission; Mrs. Pat Derbyshire, a member of the parolee advisory Mr. R. H. Donnelly, Deputy Superintendent of Soledad's North Facility in Soledad was also in agreement with the project and Mr. McQuinn said all are needed to solicit support in the endeavor.

"We do not ask for money, only, your encouragement and sanctioning of the concept," concluded McQuinn in the letter.

Philosophy And The YAFA Ethic

Any organization that can be truly classed as an organization has a set of principles or laws to regulate its actions and govern its thought and conduct. This set of principles or laws is called philosophy.

YOUNG ADULTS FOR ACTION, INC.'s philosophy can be said to be humanist because of its concern for the commonweal of total humanity. It can also be said to be existentialist in that it is a philosophy predicated upon the rebellion against the dehumanization and estrangement of man in contemporary society.

The life-process of society is based on the process of material production. This life-process does not become a distinct reality until it is regulated in accordance with a settled plan. This, however, demands a set of conditions of existence which on their turn are the product of a Change in Procedure Announced

Effective February 1, food stamp recipients will be required to register for work with the State Department of Human Resources Development (HRD), a state official said recently. This requirement of Agriculture.

The official, Norman Blacher, a deputy director of HRD, who heads the Job Training Development and Placement Division (JTD&P) said that most able bodied persons between the ages of 18 and 65 will be required to register.

In addition, under the new regulations persons receiving or applying for USDA food stamps must also report for an interview with HRD upon reasonable request, report to an employer to whom he had been referred and accept a bona fide offer of suitable employment.

Exceptions to the new regulation include: mothers or other members of a household who have responsibility for the care of dependent children under 18 or of incapacitated adults, students enrolled at least half-time in any school or training program recognized by any federal, state or local governmental agency and persons already working at least 30 hours a week.

To administer the new law, HRD will work closely with the Department of Social Welfare, which is the agency that determines eligibility for food stamps.

Director Cuts Poverty Staff

Several staff members of the Monterey Peninsula Poverty Council have been eliminated at the service center in Seaside, including Stephen E. Ross as director.

Ross had held his post since June of 1969, and said his job and that of three staff members have been eliminated by Charles Clairborne, executive director of the Monterey County Anti Poverty Coordinating Council.

Clairborne (the new director) assumed his post September and redesigned the program and made changes in positions, which has resulted in changing of the level of pay and responsibilities in certain categories.

Ross declined to comment further, other than saying he hoped he would be able to fill a role elsewhere in the antipovetry program.

Also losing their jobs were a secretary, a clerical aid and the center's food bank coordinator. Ross, a member of the Seaside City Council, received a yearly salary of about $7,500, as director.

William C. Greenwell, re-elected Wednesday as president of the Peninsula antipovetry council, said he had been authorized to write Clairborne of its dissatisfaction and send a copy of the letter to the San Francisco regional branch of the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity.

Clairborne was not available for elaboration, but Greenwell said he had taken his action during an annual hiatus when the local council's delegate agency status is subject to renegotiation by the county antipovetry council the parent organization.

Reopening

Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services Thrift Shop at 785 Broadway, Seaside, will present a varied and interesting display of merchandise when it opens its door at noon January 3, 1972. The shop has been closed to the public during the holiday season, but a staff of workers has been busy reorganizing, redecorating, collecting and pricing merchandise.

Of special interest is a collection of wedding gowns, all new and donated by a local shop.

said "but we're trying to secure some equity in relation to the continuity of the program." He said Clairborne had named Lawrence Hughes of Salinas as acting coordinator of the center.

In the past year, Ross, said, his staff operated "in an advocate role for low income people" in such problem areas as employment, housing and welfare; provided counseling for persons starting small businesses and helped organize community action groups.

The future of Monterey's several area service centers was clouded somewhat by a sharply worded message to the county-wide antipovetry council from the regional OEO office last summer.

The letter charged the county group with failing to attack its major goals, including vocational and skills training and forming a county wide transportation cooperative. Failure of the program to shape up, as indicated, could result in a closing of the local centers.

Schools Week Announced

Seaside Community Schools Week has been set for January 17-21, the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District has announced.

Throughout the week, parents and other members of the public are encouraged to visit schools in the Seaside area.

On January 18 and 19, district administrators will be visiting Ord Terrace, Manzanita, Highland, Noche Buena and Cabrillo elementary schools and King Junior High School.

The administrators will hold a luncheon meeting at Ord Terrace on January 18 to discuss with principals observations made at the schools.

Community schools weeks have already been held for the Fort Ord and Marina areas. A similar week is scheduled for remaining Seaside schools, plus schools in Del Rey Oaks and part of Monterey in February.

In March, a week will be set aside to visit remaining Monterey schools.

A. E. 'Andy' Barragan, Publisher

New Year's weekend passed very quietly at our household. Most of the day was spent watching the various football games. Firstpenn State beat Texas in a good game; then, the Stanford Indians upset the strong Michigan Wolverines and last, but not least, the Nebraska Cornhuskers made mincemeat out of the Alabama Crimson Tide, which never did rise. The day after New Years', we watched the San Francisco Forty-Niners take a shellacking from the Dallas Cowboys. That's the first one we lost. Naturally I was rooting for the Forty Niners, but John Brodie just wasn't passing in his usual good form, so Dallas beat him and the rest of the Forty-Niners. I wrote this column as I watched the Baltimore Miami game. Unfortunately, all my cheering for Honny Unitas and the Colts did little good as Miami won 21-0.

On New Year's Eve I had a call from Dick Bragg at his Radio Talk show on KIDD. Dick was calling some of the people who had appeared on his show during 1971 to get their opinions on the year 1971 and some predictions on 1972. I told him that in spite of the serious seemingly distasteful, economic conditions which existed at the start of 1971 every one of the local merchants that I talked to had a better year in 1971 and had a most successful month of business in December. Every one told me that they had exceeded the previous December by wide margins. This was also true in retail sales throughout the

Church Services

The relevance of practical Christianity will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday in a Bible Lesson - Sermon entitled "Sacrament."

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father." These words of Christ Jesus are included in the Scriptural readings.

One of the citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "The hour has struck when proof and demonstration, instead of opinion and dogma, are summoned to the support of Christianity, 'making wise the simple.'"

Services begin at 10:30 a.m. at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Monterey Everyone is welcome.

THE PURPOSE OF THIS NEWS LETTER IS TO PROVIDE SOME BACKGROUND INFORMATION PERTAINING TO PROJECT: "LA DIVIDAD DE SOLEDAD" (A SHARING OF THE SOLITUDE.)

THE CONCEPT OF THE PROJECT IS PREDICATED ON THE PROPOSITION: COMMUNITIES AND CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTIONS SHARE A MUTUAL NEED, THIS MUTUAL NEED TO WHICH WE REFER, IS THE NEED TO CREATE, REFLECT, AND PROJECT A BETTER IMAGE. IN ORDER FOR THIS NEED TO REALIZE FULFILLMENT, WE BELIEVE MANY CONCEPTS MUST BE EXPLORED AND DEVELOPED; FULLY TAKING INTO CONSIDERATION THE FACT THAT COMMUNITIES AND CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTIONS, LIKE PEOPLE, CAN REFLECT ONLY THAT WHICH THEY ARE. THE APPLICABILITY AND VALIDITY OF THIS PROPOSITION IS ILLUSTRATED RATHER VIVIDLY WITHIN THE CONTEXT OF SOME REMARKS MADE BY THOMAS PAINE APPROXIMATELY 200 YEARS AGO, WHEN HE SAID: "REPUTATION IS WHAT MEN AND WOMEN THINK OF US; CHARACTER IS WHAT GOD AND THE ANGELS KNOW OF US" AND "IT IS NECESSARY TO THE HAPPINESS OF MAN THAT HE BE MENTALLY FAITHFUL TO HIMSELF. INFIDELITY DOES NOT CONSIST IN BELIEVING OR DISBELIEVING; IT CONSISTS IN PROFESSING TO BELIEVE WHAT HE DOES NOT BELIEVE."

ANOTHER MUTUAL INTEREST SHARED BY COMMUNITIES AND CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTIONS IS PEOPLE! FORMER RESIDENTS OF COMMUNITIES ARE INCARCERATED IN CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTIONS, THESE FORMER RESIDENTS WILL RETURN TO THEIR COMMUNITIES TO LIVE UPON THEIR RELEASE FROM INCARCERATION. THEY HAVE A NEED TO MAINTAIN CONTACT WITH, AND AN INTEREST IN THE COMMUNITIES FROM WHERE THEY CAME, MANY RESIDENTS OF THESE COMMUNITIES WORK ON THE STAFF OF THE CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ARE INVOLVED WITH THE CUSTODY, TREATMENT, AND TRAINING OF THE RESIDENT INMATE POPULATION. ONE OF THE PURPOSES OF THIS PROJECT IS TO PROVIDE A PERPETUAL PUBLIC RELATIONS SCHEME --

To Celebrate Anniversary

The Kiwanis Club of Seaside will observe the 57th Anniversary of Kiwanis International on January 21, 1972. In announcing the observance, Samuel Brown president of the Seaside Kiwanis Club, described Kiwanis International as a men's service organization whose stated purpose, "Service to Youth, Community, and Nation," is an apt description of the work its members undertake.

Kiwanis was founded on January 21, 1915, in Detroit, Michigan. At its inception the organization was strictly a business oriented activity, but today, Kiwanis is community oriented and manifests itself in service projects. This year Kiwanis International will continue its OPERATION DRUG ALERT program and initiate a new activity, PROJECT ENVIRONMENT.

Kiwanis International has 275,000 members in 5,800 clubs throughout the United States, Canada and 37 countries in the Free World. These clubs will be observing the 57th Anniversary of Kiwanis International during Kiwanis Anniversary Week, January 16 - 22.

I think that the adjusted retail increase nationwide for December was between 9 and 11 percent.

I don't think that economic conditions are going to get much better in 1972, especially when it is an election year. But some confidence has been restored by the price-wage freeze. I guess and I should say so-called price and wage freeze because it seems that almost every industry and union is being allowed some kind of increase. Nixon has something for everyone. He is without a doubt one of the smartest politicians that ever lived. Although I have been one of his most severest critics, I have to give him credit for his open-field running. He makes the most out of every opportunity and has been able to cover up his mistakes to the point that the opposition cannot get a handle-hold on any particular issue with sufficient strength to make him look bad. When he begins to look bad in the domestic area he immediately shifts the attention of the American Public to the international field. Then, when he muffs one then he shifts back to the economic side of the field.

I have found myself agreeing with him time and again lately. Maybe its because he has made sudden shifts to what would be termed "liberal" policies in foreign affairs, such as his trip to China or when he first espoused his guaranteed annual wage early in his term of office.

Those two shifts to "liberal" policies have cost him many of his most ardent right-wing supporters. In fact, there will be conservative congressmen opposing him in the New Hampshire primary election. And even though Congressman Pete McClosky of San Mateo has been riding him on his conduct of the war and his slow withdrawal, the Vietnam Issue hasn't been such a millstone around his neck as it was for President Lyndon Johnson. Nixon and his advisors took the steam out of the campaign of the young people when he started the troop withdrawals and now he has them all whooping it up for "The Environment." Very smartly the administration has shifted the heat of the young and college folk to the environment issue and gotten them to look the other way, while the unemployment and prices continue to rise. Sure, we have to protect the environment. The rape of our natural resources has gone on long enough. Our inner cities look like bombed-out European cities after world war II, but the but the answer has never been in improving the environment. The answer is an all-out war on poverty.

The end of the war in Vietnam is imperative not only to stop the killing, but to provide all of that money now being channeled to the military to be reassigned to the domestic sector of our economy so as to provide the full employment that Nixon so glibly talks about. Billions of dollars have to be appropriated and spent in cleaning up the poverty areas which exist and have existed in our country for so many years. Each time a new program is announced which is supposed to do some good for these areas, we find out in a few months that it was only "window-dressing" and that only a few million dollars was appropriated and that is usually just enough to pay the bureaucrats who are hired to fool the public that something is really going to take place.

After a few months of ballyhoo and inactivity, they announce another program and so it goes on and on. I don't blame the president in these cases. Some of the responsibility has to go back to the congress which is supposedly elected to represent the will of the people to represent the will of the people. Especially in this election year will we see a lot of talk about who is going to help the poor American worker to get a job and when all of the shouting is over we will discover that it was only an election gimmick by one side or the other to fool the public into voting for them.

I was reading somewhere the other day about the so-called "puritan Ethic" on which this nation was founded. I thought that this "ethic" was the one on which you could rely on your neighbor to practice the "Golden Rule" and do unto his brother as you would like him to do unto you. It hasn't seemed to work that way. Not until we really understand the meaning of charity, hope and love and gratitude will we look upon other human beings as just that human beings. People all over the world have to make an about-face in their thinking. They must selfishly try to treat everyone of their brothers with love and kindness. I say selfishly because only by giving will we receive and only when we learn to give love completely, will we be completely loved.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR: Secretary of State Rogers' announcement that the Nixon administration intends to continue air strikes in Southeast Asia is morally and militarily unsound. While we attempt to obtain release of our P.O.W.s, we increase the chances that more filers will be captured through continuing bombing raids. How can you get an enemy to release imprisoned aviators when the principle tool of policy in Southeast Asia is beating the devil out of them from the air? A Cornell University study shows that during the preceding 3 years Nixon dropped more bombs on Indochina than did Johnson in the three years before the bomb-

As I See It

By Mel Vercoe

Remember Drew Pearson? He shook up a lot of people, and it is a shame he is no longer with us to enjoy the Pentagon papers scandal. His partner, Jack Anderson, is carrying on, and is making goings-on that some people would like to keep hidden. His most recent disclosure of importance dealt with a secret conference the President held with his security adviser in regard to what America should do about helping Pakistan during the India-Pakistan war.

Now that Pakistan has lost the war (until we send them enough material to start another one) the pro-Pakistan stance we adopted is a bit unpopular, and the less our voters find out about it the better for Mr. Nixon. Jack Anderson printed in some detail the proposals that were made in Nixon's conference, including one that we ship arms to Pakistan through other governments to try to save the dictatorship of Yahya Khan.

All of which makes for another Pentagon papers flap. How did Jack Anderson get his information? Which high official attending the conference was willing to risk losing his job for the sake of having the American people find out how dangerous it is to have a man like Richard Nixon in the White House? And if the President is able to learn his identity, will he be prosecuted for "endangering American security?"

In the case of the Pentagon papers we can all now breathe easier. A federal grand jury has indicted Ellsberg and Russo on additional counts which could put Russo away for 35 years and Ellsberg for 115 years, which would make him relatively harmless at the time of his release. The grand jury, incidentally, made no announcement of whether or not they were to investigate the actual real crimes involved - the various conspiracies among our high government officials, past and present, to employ secrecy in order to carry on policies leading to the eventual destruction of the United States. All of which should furnish a good healthy laugh for historians when they try to figure out a hundred years from now how America lasted as long as it did.

James Reston, usually noted for his kind approach, does not agree with me on Nixon's reasons for supporting Pakistan. I take the view that we are just following standard American Foreign policy fight communism by supporting dictators and colonialism and by helping suppress people. Reston thanks Nixon is just following standard Nixon policy of lashing out like a spoiled child when frustrated (as with the bombing in North Vietnam), and doing almost anything to divert attention from the real issue. I hope he (Nixon) doesn't decide suddenly to secretly eliminate us poor Democrats.

After the Ellsberg case it might be ten years before anybody dared tell the press about our fate.

ing halt. The total tonnage dropped on Vietnam is greater than the total tonnage dropped by the U.S. in the Second World War and the Korean War combined.

According to combat Marine Colonel James Donovan in his book, Militarism, U.S.A., the employment of massive firepower in Vietnam has become the most expensive and wasteful hoax ever put over on the American people. History of unlimited bombing indicates that such a policy strengthens the resolve of the enemy to continue to resist.

As Senator McGovern stated, "Four billion dollars - the cost of bombing Vietnam this year - would build a good school or health clinic in 3,000 of our cities and still leave one billion dollars to strengthen the income of hard - pressed family farmers."

Nixon supporter, Burt Talcott is being challenged by a strong Democratic candidate for Congress, Julian Camacho. Camacho states, "I believe that the war in Indo-China has gone on too long, cost too much, and produced too little. I support an immediate end to the war all ground troops, air support, and tactical troops. We have problems in this country that must be solved. To solve Americas problems, we need our men and monies here, in the United States."

Don't let safety play second fiddle.

Nobody likes the idea of losing what he's earned. Saving money is like a love affair. Once fulfilled, it becomes vulnerable to the fear of loss. Protect your principal. Guarantee gain. That's the trick in making money work for you.

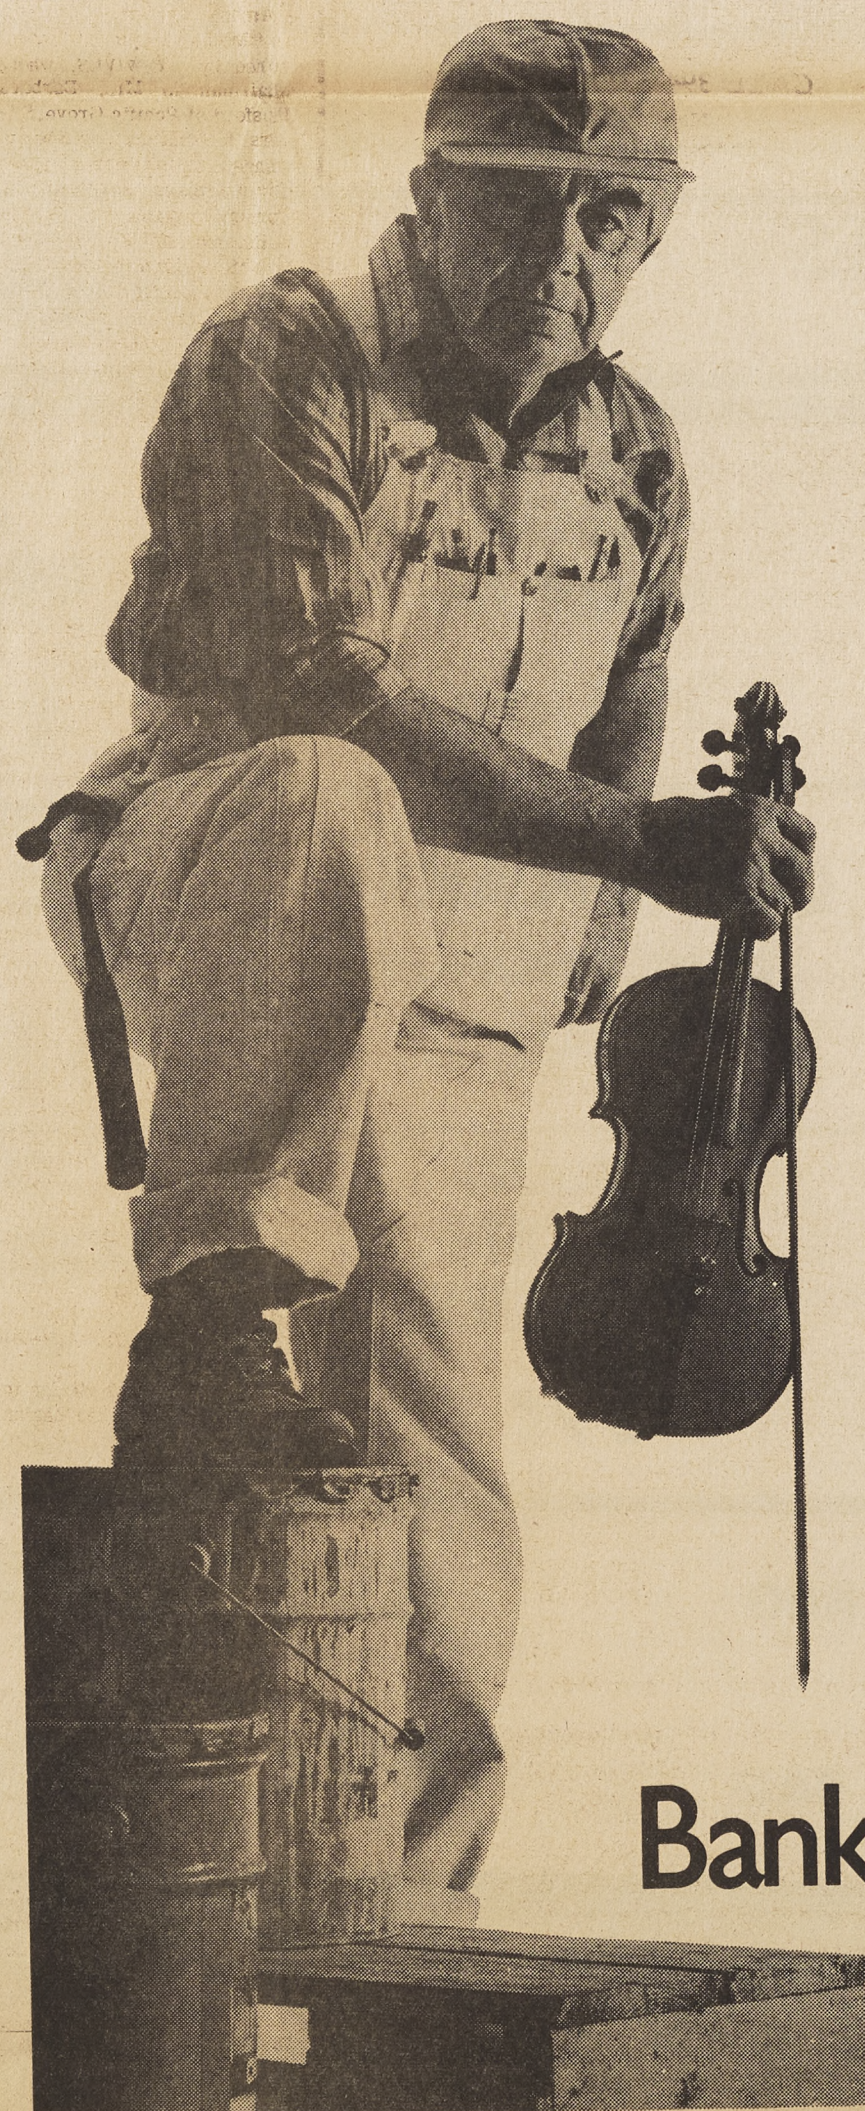

At Bank of America you're assured of both. We guard your money with everything Bank of America stands for. Some call it stability. We call it financial knowledge tempered by experience.

Good times or bad, Bank of America quietly piles dollar on dollar in your account. And your money's there when you want it. We can't think of an easier way to make money short of a windfall from a rich uncle.

We have several savings plans. Each pays a good return, depending upon how long you want us to safeguard your money.

At Bank of America, the biggest threat to your principal is your own withdrawal. Why not open an account with us? Even if it's only a few dollars, safety counts.

VOLAR NEWS

Here it is, 1972, a big year for the Modern Volunteer Army and to start off VOLAR NEWS this yea, I want to congratulate all the men from the area that enlisted in the United States Army during "Operation Holiday."

Leonard L. Collins, Jr., of Seaside enlisted for training in the Food Service Field and after basic training will be assigned to the guaranteed field. Leonard is a graduate of Monterey High School and is married to the former Patricia Samson, also of Seaside.

graduated from Bad Kreuznach High School in Germany and obtained an Associate Arts Degree

Among our other enlistees were Phil Kobayashi of Marina and Caesar L. Duhay of Seaside. They chose a two year enlistment as Regular Army volunteers.

T-N-T

T and T, That's right, that's the name of our brand new option. It's our Training young men that are High School graduates.

If you are qualified you may choose the type of training and assignment after completion of the school course. All this is done before enlisting and after passing all physical and written examinations.

The opportunity to enlist for training in the Law Enforcement Field, Artillery Missiles, Radio Repair and serve in either Korea for 13 months or Europe for 16 months - that's the minimum tour of duty for those overseas areas. It's possible that you could stay longer.
If you would like more details on these or other TNT options, give us a call at 372-4742 or stop by 431 Webster St. in Monterey. That's it for

January 14-15 Statewide Symposium On Sickle Cell Anemia Is First In Nation

The first statewide conference on sickle cell anemia to be called in the nation is planned for January 14 and 15 at the University of California Extension Center, Auditorium, 55 Laguna Street, San Francisco.

The conference hopes to bring together representatives of all the various efforts now underway to raise funds, do research and find a cure for the disease, according to Yvonne Kelley, a coordinator in the Neighborhood Health Center Seminar Program, one of the sponsors of the two-day symposium.

The other sponsors are Continuing Education in Social and Health Sciences of UC Extension and the School of Public Health, UC-Berkeley.

The symposium is designed to bring about a greater public awareness of sickle cell anemia. At least one in every ten Black Americans is believed to be afflicted, with about one of every 100 actually suffering from the disease.

Conference planners also expect the symposium to serve as a model for other states that may want to coordinate information on sickle cell anemia programs, Mrs.
Kelley said.

The program will focus on all aspects of the disease: its causes and effects, the populations affected, diagnosis and treatment and the psychological and social problems of the sickle cell patient. It will also deal with the role of politics and the community in combating the disease.

SYMPTOMS

It is already known that the disease is at present incurable and often leads to an early death. Sickle cell anemia causes the red blood cells to assume an abnormal shape.
People who have the disease suffer in varying degrees from an array of disabilities ranging from acute crises of pain to stunted physical and sexual growth, increases susceptibility to infections, anemia and cardiac enlargement.
Despite the severity and prevalence of the disease, it has been neglected until recently and efforts to combat it have been limited.

INVITED SPEAKERS

Among speakers expected to participate in the symposium are Dr. Angelica D. Fernun-dez, professor of pediatrics in the Howard University College of Medicine, Washington, D.C., who has assisted Dr.
Roland Scott, a pioneer in sickle cell research.

Following an introduction at 9 a.m. Friday, January 14, by Dr. Albert W. Parker of the UC-Berkeley School of Public Health, Dr. Ferguson will open the conference at 9:30 a.m. with a discussion on "What Is Sickle Cell Anemia?"

At 11 a.m., W. Donald Williams, a third-year Stanford University medical student and president of the Mid-Peninsula Sickle Cell Foundation, will give "An Overview of Current Basic and Clinical Research."

At 1:30 p.m., Friday, Ozella Keys, a sickle cell patient, will talk about "Living with Sickle Cell Anemia." She will be followed at 2 p.m. by a panel presentation on "A Comprehensive Approach to Caring for the Sickle Cell Patient," by Dr. Samuel Benson, resident in psychiatry at Stanford; Dr. Ronald Light-bourne of the Watts Community Health Center and Dr. Darleen Powars, associate professor of Hematology and Oncology at the University of Southern California School of Medicine.

On Saturday, the conference will open at 9 a.m. with a panel discussion entitled "Setting Up Community Sickle Cell Detection, Counseling and Education Programs."

BLACK CLINICS

Panelists will include Dr.
Marshall G. Barnes, associate professor of pathology at the UC-Davis School of Medicine; J. Raymond Davis, coordinator of Screening and Counseling at San Francisco's Black Man's Free Clinic; Dr.
Bert Small, chairman of the People's Sickle Cell Anemia Foundation of the Black Panther Party, Oakland; Lawrence C. Williams, chief laboratory technologist at the Charles R. Drew Health Center, East Palo Alto, and Barbara Dunlap of the Alameda County-San Francisco
Planned Parenthood affiliate.

Moderator will be Laura Anderson of the Berkeley City Health Department's family planning program.

At 11 a.m., Dr. Cerella A.
Lucas, pediatrician and representative of the John Hale Medical Society of San Francisco, will discuss "The Impact of Sickle Cell Anemia on the Community."

At 1:30 p.m., Lulu M. Carter, co-chairman of the Sickle Cell Anemia Disease Research Foundation of San Francisco, will speak on
"Establishing Community Support."

Mrs. Carter, who helped plan the symposium, said that such community education programs are "vital in the fight against sickle cell anemia."

"More people must become aware of the devastating effects of this disease before we can get the widespread support needed to finance costly research, testing and treatment programs," Mrs.

Carter said.

She added that "this conference will help persons in various community agencies, such as school nurses, teachers, recreational counselors and employers, to better understand and cope with the special problems of the sickle cell patient."

Plans are being made, she said, to "develop extensive proceedings from this symposium and make them available to a number of different community groups and organizations. By doing this, we hope to reach a far greater number than those who are able to attend the conference."

POLITICIANS

Following Mrs. Carter's presentation, "Politics and Sickle Cell Anemia" will be discussed at 2:30 p.m. by Congressman Ronald V. Dellums (D, Berkeley/Oakland); State
Senator Mervyn M. Dymally
(D, Los Angeles) and State Assemblyman Leon D. Ralph (D, Los Angeles).

The conference will close with a 3:30 p.m. talk on
"Where Do We Go from Here?" by Dr. S. Randolph Edmonds, Jr., pediatrician at the Drew-King Medical Complex of Los Angeles.

Registration is scheduled for 8:30 a.m., Friday. Persons who enroll ahead of time and then cannot attend will be granted a full refund if requested in writing prior to the opening day of the program.

Such persons must submit a signed request in person or by mail to the University Extension, University of California, 2223 Fulton Street, Berkeley, Calif. 94720.

Persons may enroll in advance of the conference or on Friday morning.

Further information is available by calling the University Extension, Berkeley, at 642-1064.

Other original committee members are Vassie Wright, Ben S. Perry and Cecile E.
Murrell, Los Angeles; Ernest
Hartley, San Diego; James Hollaway, Sacramento;
George Pope, Tulare; Hattie
Crawford, Wasco and Leamon King, former Olympic track champion, of Delano.

Mrs. George Smith of Los Angeles, a descendant of Colonel Allensworth, Mrs.
Willie Pope and Jeff Plerro, residents of the town and M.
L. Jenkins, a high school student from Tulare, where additional appointees to the group.

The town is located in the San Joaquin Valley, in the extreme southwest corner of Tulare County between Corcoran and Wasco, about an hour's drive from Bakersfield and four hours from the San Francisco bay area.

REPORT

In a report to the legislature, the department said that Allensworth "represents the first recognition of the importance of Negro participation in the historical and cultural development of California."

The department's feasibility study, requested by the legislature, recommends that the town become a state park.
The department has estimated it will cost $150,000 to acquire the 240-acre townsite and $2.4 million to restore and develop its facilities.

Allensworth was founded by Colonel Allensworth, who formed a California Colony and Home Protection Association.

The colonel dedicated himself to creating an environment for the psychological emancipation of newly freed slaves.

His dream town experienced its greatest growth from 1908 to 1918. The town first declined due to a shortage of water and later as residents migrated to larger cities during World War II. A dozen Black families still live there.

The department has estimated that 400,000 persons would visit Allensworth each year if it were made a state park.

COMMITTEE

Instrumental in the effort to gain recognition for Allens-worth has been Tulare resident Cecil W. Berkley, brother of POST editor-publisher Thomas L. Berkley.

Cecil Berkley was appointed, with 18 other Blacks, to the Allensworth Advisory Committee formed in 1969 by Governor Ronald Reagan to advise the State Department of Parks and Recreation on the desirability of incorporating Allensworth into the state park system.
